

One's brain begins to function measurably at six weeks old.